Tutoring Experience

With over 10 years of tutoring experience, I have successfully supported a diverse range of students in achieving their academic goals. My journey began while completing my Master's degree, where I discovered my passion for teaching. I've worked with students from various backgrounds, helping them excel in their IB Economics and Business Management exams. My students have consistently achieved high grades, with many securing top university placements. I am particularly proud of the tailored guidance I provide for Extended Essays, where I assist students in selecting compelling topics and crafting well-structured arguments. My teaching philosophy is rooted in patience, clarity, and adaptability, ensuring that each student receives the support they need to thrive.
